At this season, nearly every one needs to use some sort of tonic. IRON enters into almost every physician's prescription for those who need toning up.

THE RUINS IN CHARLESTON

THE POPULATION STILL OUT OF DOORS THROUGH FEAR.

Loss of Property Not Yet to Be Estimated.
The City Gradually Assuming a Business-Like Aspect—Relief Pouring In from all Parts of the Country.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Sept. 4.—When the first-hatched sun arose through the fog at 6 o'clock, scenes were disclosed on the public squares and in the streets throughout the city, which were enough to touch a heart of stone. Ruinely improved tents constructed mostly from old clothing were to be seen everywhere. Few people slept in doors. The buildings were in ruins, and the streets were black with smoke and dust. The Italian and white and black old and young, "blown and belated together in confusion, and shivered symptoms of terrible distress as they crawled out of their shelter, rubbed their eyes, yawned and spoke of their ill and fears. Thousands slept with nothing but the canopy of heaven above them.

After the parks and public squares were covered with the ruined houses, suspended over the streets, beds, quilts, etc., from front over sidewalks and thus passed the night. Many enjoyed the repose of Morphus under open umbrellas, the handles of which were stuck in the ground. The most grotesque camp had camped in their own yards.

The colored people continue to give evidence of superstitious notions and say they will not return to their houses till at least another night passes, and that they may never again suppose the importance of removing and airing their dry bread in prayerful shapes, beside the places where they slept. On the whole, however, it may be said that confidence is returning and should return. But it is evident that the people are not yet reconciled to their surroundings. The work will be in their hands within twenty-four hours, although inconveniences and delay will be experienced for months to come.

The morning's News and Courier announces in double leaded head lines that "Charleston is ready for business, despite the earthquake and its ravages"; that "the ware houses are ample accommodation; the wharves are in excellent condition; the port facilities are in full operation; the merchants and factories unblasted by the fortune, have girded up their loins anew for the battle of commercial life." Continuing, it says: "Charleston, we say, is as well able as ever to transact any business that can be obtained in the city, as ever to give to the toomers from every part of the country the commercial facilities they require, and the attention and good faith they have a right to expect. It is not to be imagined for a moment that Charleston is sitting in the ashes, because of the want of energy and the want of confidence of the loss is here. It is understood fully that far more than the earnings of a twelve months were swept away in less than a minute. But for all this, the city is still in the same position as before. The determination to maintain the commercial position it has won, and is fortunately so situated as to be able, as well as ready, to do successfully with every department of trade and business, the work of reconstruction."

An appeal is made to the city council for monetary assistance in the form of an appropriation, but the News and Courier advises those who extend aid to confine their efforts in a doing to people in circumstances exceeding the ordinary, and those now to help themselves. Very little up to the time the writing has been accomplished to relieve the city of its appearance of desolation.

As the eye takes in the length of a street, it is by the lead of details of every possible description, stones, timber, shingles, lumber, household and office furniture, and all kinds of building material in a mass. Whole fronts or sides of buildings have fallen out, leaving the furnishings in the interior exposed to the weather. The exterior population is streaming out of doors. The observers had a narrow escape. Great excitement prevails, especially among the colored people, who are preaching praying there are few visitors here, and confidence has not been sufficiently restored to invite strangers to the ruined city.

The search for the dead is progressing, but it is believed that the bodies have all been found. The employees of the Southern Telegraph company have returned to their connoctious homes, but the telegraphers, cleared on their layed work, and resumed unhampered service for the world.

Up to this time the fault with the press reports has rested with the demoralized condition of the telegraphic facilities. The telegraphers have been compelled to use the services of the agents and the operators. The wires very generally destroyed by the falling buildings in Charleston. The heavy strings of wires from the general office pass over the center of the street, and the regular service is suspended. The wires are supported by iron cross-ties. Some of these strings of wires extend three or four squares in distance, and at points are not over fifteen feet above the ground. The falling buildings in many instances twisted the wires into loops, and in some cases the wires were disentangled. A few new wires have been put up, the linesmen working day and night.

"I have not slept a wink for three nights," exclaimed the foreman of the Hueman's gang of telegraphers. "I do not think I will repeat the work I have done during that time for the whole telegraph company."

The Southern Telegraph company are rendering prompt service now but are overwhelmed with business. The Central Union company have reasonably prompt service to Washington, New York and intermediate points. The service in the south is yet demoralized. The operators who have hitherto been pretty shaky and in many cases unable to use their instruments, have now returned to their instruments, which are now located mostly in frame structures. Large numbers of commercial and other messages received from business men, friends and relatives of the citizens. Correspondence is sent to the parties to whom they are addressed being so disturbed that they cannot be found, or the companies being unable to procure adequate news service.

The Signal Officer Report.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.—The following telegram, from the signal corps observer at Charleston, S. C., has been received at the signal office: "All quiet. The last shock was felt Wednesday night at 11:55. No tidal wave preceded or followed the quake. Twelve shocks were felt; all of them were very slight. The most violent shock, which is very likely to be the most violent, was at 10:15. It is impossible to ascertain the number of wounded. The estimated damage to buildings is between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000. No building in the city escaped injury. The signal corps are at work on the telegraph offices. The observers had a narrow escape. Great excitement prevails, especially among the colored people, who are preaching pray-

Relief from Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 4.—A permanent committee, composed of prominent business men, have called a meeting for the purpose of aiding the sufferers by the earthquake in Charleston on Tuesday night. The Citizens' committee hold an unexpected balance from previous relief funds, which will probably form the nucleus of a fund for aiding the Charleston sufferers.

Relief from New York.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.—The American has opened a subscription for the relief of the sufferers at Charleston, and headed it with $500. The mayor of that city, was telegraphed that substantial sympathy will be shown by the business men of New York. The signal corps have been sent to the telegraph offices to help them. The telegraphers are to be paid for their services.

DAILY EVENING BULLETIN.

BAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.

ROSSER & McCARTHY,

Proprietors.

SATURDAY EVENING SEPT., 4, 1886.

A WRITER in the Louisville Times advanced the theory that earthquakes are caused in the same manner as tides.

SEVENTEN Storekeepers and Store-Gangers have been discharged by the collector at Louisville. Too many men for the work.

REPUBLICAN platform-makers this year have ignored the negro, an evidence, it is to be hoped, that the bloody shirt has been folded up and laid away.

The latest in the medicinal water line is an artesian well at Lemoore, Dakota. The continued use of the waters is said to destroy the desire for alcoholic drinks.

The Republicans of the 11th district have put up Judge Finley as their candidate for Congress. Finley is said to have a good sized "barrel," and will try to make it interesting for the Democrats.

HON. W. J. HENDRICK, of Fleming, declines to be a candidate for Attorney General. Engagements of a private and business character preclude his making the race. This will be regretted by his admirers throughout the State.

SENATOR BECK is reported as saying of Cleveland: "His chief qualifications are that he is honest and conscientious himself and requires of his subordinates absolute honesty in the management of public affairs, and in consequence he is growing stronger with the people every day."

In order that our readers may understand what an earthquake is, we give the following description from the Enquirer by Dr. T. A. Reamy, a learned gentleman of Cincinnati: "He" felt two very perceptible seismic vibrations, the first one quite noticeable and the second one much more severe." We think that this ought to be transmitted to future generations so they will recognize the monster when he's around.

A MAYSVILLE whisky man was here on the day of the election to instruct our people how they ought to vote, and to impress upon them the iniquity of the ten-gallon clause of the prohibition bill. He went away cursing his luck, saying that he had put $30 into the race and lost it and his trade, too. He went home a crushed and disheartened citizen. He will know better next time.—Flemingburg Times-Democrat.

The Enterprise is respectfully informed that the present editor of the BULLETIN never was wailed on by "several gentlemen" or any one else and "bulldozed into the support of Powers" or any other candidate. The present editor may be neutral in some things, but when it comes to politics he's always found on the right side of the fence every time—the Democratic side. As far as bulldozing the "powers that be," there are two sides to that story. The "powers that be" were not bulldozed.

Congressional.

Fleming and Greenup held precinct meetings yesterday to select delegates to their county conventions to-day. A special from Flemingburg says Bascom carried the former, and one from Greenup brings the information that Wall has carried that county.

The result in Fleming, while not expected, should not prove a surprise when it is known that Mr. Bascom's hopes hinged on his securing the vote of that county. His loss of Fleming would have put him out of the contest. This was recognized and admitted by his supporters. Hence, their effort yesterday must have been a powerful one. The result leaves Mr. Bascom in the fight, and may end in a long and tedious struggle at Augusta. The county conventions to-day throughout the district may change masters, however, and their result is anxiously awaited.

Internal Revenue Collections.

General James F. Robinson, Internal Revenue Collector for this district, reports the following collections for the month of August:

PHILADELPHIA'S MAYOR.

Council Appoints a Committee to Investigate the Charges of Misappropriation.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 4.—A crowd and a crush attended the assembling of council at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. After the council had been called to order, Mr. Roberts submitted a resolution authorizing the appointment of a committee to investigate the conduct of Hon. William B. Smith as mayor of Philadelphia. The probable cause of the mayor's having been openly and publicly accused of high crimes and misdeemors in office, by the embasement and misuse of public money which have come into his hands, and with unlawfully changing and altering checks drawn to his order, and the payment of a large sum of fees due the city of Philadelphia, he was to be asked to deposit such checks in a private banking institution to his account, and unlawfully retain, embasement, and misuse the money received, and of other acts and conduct incompatible with the high office of mayor and the proper management of the department under him.

The committee are instructed to make reports to council on or before the 1st of October, and to the mayor on the 1st of November, as to the truth or falsity of such accusations. And if the truth of such accusations be established by the facts and proofs exhibited before said committee, that their report be made to the council for the adoption of such measures as the committee may think fit.

—The resolution was agreed to without a dissenting voice.

Gave Himself Up.

LOGANPORT, Ill., Sept. 4.—A young man held in custody here, and in the residence, gave his name as John Gavick and stated that he was wanted in Illinois for killing C. F. Harvey, at East St. Louis, the 25th of last July, and that a reward of $1,000 was offered for his arrest. Word from St. Louis to the effect that he was still at large, he said, was the only information he had. He is but eighteen years old. He says that his parents reside in East St. Louis and that he worked in the rolling mills. He killed Harvey, he says, in self defense, that Harvey and two companions had held him at gunpoint, and he had to use a small pocket knife and stabbed him. He ran away because Harvey belonged to the Knights of Labor, and he feared he would be killed by members of the order, who were then in the city, he said. Gavick is anxious to go back to the state, where he will be acquitted if witnessess tell the truth. He wants to start home but the complications over the reward make this impossible.

Cincinnati's Ex-Postmaster.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 4.—Col. Smith A. Whitfield is dangerously ill at the Hotel Emery. A few months ago, before leaving for Carp Lake, he was in a severe attack of rheumatism, but still living. He suffered a severe neuralgic attack from the effects of which he thought he had fully recovered. When he returned to the city week before last to turn over the post office to Mr. John C. Tracy, he had a sick fit, and suddenly found the worms had laid him low with typhoid fever. He will be removed to the Emery to the home of Mr. James L. Quinton on Walnut Hill this afternoon.

A Modern Demosthenes.

Hugh Swinton Legare, of South Carolina, is a good specimen of a cultivated orator. Of medium height, with a broad, square face, while a defective shape and ill-proportioned arms (one of which had been stiffened with smallpox in his youth) seemed to render it impossible for him ever to attain a graceful and expressive delivery. Yet, he has a natural grace and a decided power of expression, which the famous ancient Demosthenes was almost nothing, he vanquished those formidable disadvantages. By the practice of everything that could strengthen his utterance, he gave him the command of his instrument, and, in his whole oration, he absolutely created himself a voice the most powerful and one of the most perfect I had ever heard. It became clear, natural, delicate and true in its most intense intonations, while, in its more vehement bursts of passion, it was like a well-tempered organ, full of brilliancy, with a ringing tone, to which we have often felt the walls of a legislature ring and vibrate.

He overcomes, in like manner, or contrived to overcome, his bodily defects so as to attain a mind of system quite sufficient to second the beautiful recitative of his voice and the play of features unusually striking—a noble and commanding countenance, full of intellect and passion, so to speak, that that the glories of his eloquence could express. Mr. Legare was United States chargé d'affaires at Brussels from 1832 until 1845, and was one of the most popular diplomatic representatives we have ever had at that foreign port. Appointed attaché to Mr. John Tyler, he accompanied him when he went to Boston to attend a celebration of the battle of Bunker Hill, and was taken ill, dying there on the 23d of June, 1843.—Benedict Poore.

Fay's Cleek Model.

That all depends on their shape, its symmetry and adaptability to the business. The woman who is of good height, weighs about 120 pounds, has a bust measure of thirty-six inches or a little over, and is perfect in form, and has a bust of $15.00. The bust is made in the morning until 6 in the afternoon trying on cleeks. She is receiving the highest price and is the star model. She is always in demand, and has to do more, perhaps, than the other models. Ten dollars is about the average price for cleeks. They are being sold in the druggists and others to the cutting department, and of course the price vary. Eight dollars a week is a fair price, and we get under that per week.—New York Mail and Express.

Fruit Among the French.

The French do a great deal with fruit, while other nations take it raw. For example, they make delicious apricot cheese, gooseberry ice and jellies; they eat their salmon with a sharp knife and a glittering cut-glass compote; oranges are sliced thinly with a sharp silver knife into a glittering cut-glass compote; a knife with a powdered sugar, orange flower water and half a glass of brandy. This must stand several hours before serving.—New York Post.

J. W. BART, of Claves.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 4.—James W. Bart, of Claves, O., aged sixty, died suddenly at 6:30 yesterday evening. He dropped dead on the pavement while standing in front of his residence. His disease was, no doubt, the cause of his death. He was a prominent Odd Fellow. He leaves no family.

Rheumatism

Though painful and wearisome almost beyond endurance, is not an incurable disease if treated in time. Perhaps no other disease has so long been considered incurable as this, but at least a remedy has been discovered in this, and while CURING RHEUMATISM is rapidly endorsed by many of the Leading Physicians.

DAILY EVENING BULLETIN.

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.

ROSSER & McCARTHY,

Proprietors.

SATURDAY EVENING SEPT., 4, 1886.

INDICATIONS: "Fair weather, stationary temperature."

WHITE soap 5 cents, at Calhoun's.

GOLD and silver beads at Anna M. Frazer's. 243st

WANTED—Good, sound corn by Samuel B. Poynett & Sons.

THE business prospects are undoubtedly growing brighter every day.

THE Granite State passed up this morning in place of the Big Sandy.

THE Owingsville Outlook is for sale. It is on a solid basis, and in a good town.

Mrs. MILLIE DUKE will open her school, Monday, at her room on corner Second and Limestone.

For the preservation of the eyes from impaired sight, or for the grateful assistance to sight already impaired there is nothing equal to the Diamond spectacles. They are for sale by Ballenger.

Our physicians here are using Tongaline, and are well pleased with its results. Had a severe attack of facial neuralgia last week, took Tongaline and was relieved after the second dose.—W. S. S. Maris, Troy, Tenn.

THE Georgetown, (Ohio) News says: "Work has begun on the Columbus and Maysville Railroad between this place and Sardinia. An engineering corps has been put on and everything is going along in nice shape."

A SUMTER County girl fell in love with a young man of the neighborhood and went crazy over the matter. She is now under treatment in an asylum. Her ravings she would insist on being decked out in bridal costume.

"Jes throw me half a dozen of the biggest trout," said the citizen to the fish dealer. "Throw them?" queried the dealer. "Yes, we'll go home and tell my wife that I caught 'em. I may be a poor fisherman, but I'm no liar."

WORK on railroad bridge at Cabin Creek has been retarded for several days by the caving in last Wednesday of a large body of earth surrounding the excavations for the foundations. Five workmen both escaped with their lives, one of them losing a shoe, and all, their tools.

DESCRIPTIVE lectures by Professor J. W. McGarvey, illustrated by lantern projections, to be delivered at Christian Church Thursday and Friday nights.—September 9th and 10th. Tickets 25 cents. Let all who wish both entertainment and instruction attend these lectures.

THE Big Sandy passed down yesterday afternoon shortly before 5 o'clock. She grounded on Bonanza Bar at Portsmouth, detaining her several hours in her arrival here. The water has gotten too thin for packets of her size, and she was sent to the bank on her arrival at Cincinnati.

ALL school children holding certificates F. G. and H. are notified that by the new arrangement in fitting up two additional rooms at the High School they will attend there for the coming year. They will report at that building Monday to be assigned to their respective rooms.

THE gloomy fears, desponding views, and weariness that many complain of, would disappear were the blood made pure and healthy before reaching the delicate vessels of the brain. Ayer's Sarsaparilla purifies and vitalizes the blood, thus promoting health of body and sanity of mind.

BURRIS RODDERS, a workman engaged on the railroad bridge at Cabin Creek, was caught Monday in the machinery for hoisting rock, and sustained serious injuries to his head. The prompt action of one of his fellow-workmen alone prevented his being headed. He is still in a critical condition, but is improving.

AYER'S AGUE Cure, when used according to directions, is warranted to eradicate from the system all forms of malarial disease, such as fever and ague, chil fever, intermittent, remittent and bilious fevers, and disorders of the liver. Try it. The experiment is a safe one, and will cost you nothing if a cure is not effected.

THE Modoc Oil and Ka-ton-ka troops of Indians have been at Winchester and Mt. Sterling the past two or three weeks, and will open to Paris next week. They are said to have sold 10,000 bottles of medicine at Mt. Sterling and over 3,000 at Winchester. The poor, deluded people will likely forget a few weeks that there ever was such a thing as Ka-ton-ka and Modoc Oil.

Remarkable Earthquake in 1811.

The recent earthquake was probably the severest ever felt in this immediate section. Although it was terrible in its results at Charleston, S. C., and elsewhere on the Atlantic coast, yet it was not equal to the fearful shock experienced in 1811, which spent its force principally in the Western part of this State, and in Missouri. Of this latter, Collin's History of Kentucky furnishes a vivid description of the great convulsion, as told by men on boats descending the Mississippi, and who were in the midst of the terrific scene. A condensed account says: "It was mid-night of December 16, 1811. The phenomena commenced by distant rumbling sounds, succeeded by discharges as if a thousand pieces of artillery were exploded; the earth rocked to and fro, and vast chasms opened. The current of the Mississippi was driven back upon its source with the greatest velocity for several hours. The waters were dammed. Boats then floating on the surface shot down the declivity like an arrow from a bow, amid roaring billows and the wild commotion. Several boats were engulfed and the crews drowned."

"The earth on the shores opened in wide fissures and closing again threw the water, sand and mud in huge jets higher than the tops of the trees. The atmosphere was filled with a thick vapor of gas, to which the light imparted a purple tinge. Hills disappeared and lakes were found in their stead, while again numerous lakes became elevated ground. In Fulton County, Ky., a lake was formed, which remains to-day, and is called Reed-Foot. It is seventeen miles long and two and a half wide; in places it is over twenty feet deep. The deadened trees still stand in it. The lake is a great resort for all kinds of water-fowl and full of excellent fish."

"The shocks continued at brief intervals, but with decreasing violence for several weeks. "All that section of the country was then sparsely settled, but the few settlers suffered by the wreck of their dwellings, and in some instances by loss of life."

Camp Meeting Closes.

The Plymouth Camp Meeting closes to-morrow. So far this meeting has been a grand success. To-morrow they will reach the climax and put on the finishing touches. Several excursions will be in and about 5,000 people are booked for the grounds. The managers of this meeting are sparing no pains to render every one happy who may attend. Let there be a mighty turning out of the good people of Maysville. 'Tis another meeting of this kind many of the citizens may have gone to their long home. Then let them meet for once and clasp each other's hands as in the 'halcyon days of long ago.' Both white and colored are cordially invited to turn out and aid this laudable enterprise.

The object of the Plymouth Church is to purchase property in which they may worship the God of their salvation unmolested. In order that this meeting may be a complete success each member is requested to contribute $1.00. The friends of the congregation are also requested to contribute liberally.

The programme for Sunday is as follows: Sermon at 11 a. m., by Rev. W. G. Parks, of Tennessee; sermon at 2:30 p. m., by Rev. E. J. Anderson, the celebrated colored divine, of Georgetown, Ky.; sermon at 8 p. m., by Rev. Peter Vinegar, "the lion of the blue grass." There may be some changes made in the above programme, as other ministers may come in on the night train. New seats are being arranged, and ample provisions made to accommodate the vast multitude who will be in attendance.

H. C. Carrington and wife, of Greenup, are to speak about the 10th instant.

W. H. Bush, colored, was arrested and convicted at Vicksburg for breaking and entering into a store late at night, and failing to give a sum to be sent to jail for further trial. He was sentenced to the State prison at Frankfort, and under the law, the third term will be for life.

Work on the new Baptist Church is progressing satisfactorily. Hands are busily engaged laying the foundation.

Malines.

Charles A. Gardner in "Karl, the Pedlar," was greeted by a magnificent audience at the opera house last night. His appearance was the signal for applause, and throughout the evening he met with a splendid reception. He was in splendid voice and his singing of "Come Down by Dot Gate," "Karl's Babies," the "New Lullaby," "Chamois Hunter" and other selections was loudly encored. The play throughout was highly enjoyed by the splendid audience. By request and by special arrangement with steamer St. Lawrence to remain over until after the performance, Mr. Gardner will give a matinee this afternoon. We are assured that this will be his last appearance here as "Karl." Don't miss this last opportunity of seeing him.

Religious.

Elder E. L. Powell, pastor, will preach at Christian Church to-morrow at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.

The Baptists will worship in the courthouse to-morrow at the usual hours. Rev. R. B. Garrett, pastor.

The annual conference of the Southern Methodists of this State will meet at Winchester next Wednesday.

Services at the Church of the Nativity to-morrow as follows: 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.; Sunday school 2:30 p. m.

Preaching by the pastor, Dr. John S. Hayes, at the First Presbyterian Church to-morrow, at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.

Rev. J. Wood Pogue will deliver a discourse in Central Presbyterian Church to-morrow morning at 11 o'clock. No services at night.

The conference year of the M. E. Church, South, will end to-morrow, and Rev. D. A. Beardish, pastor of the church in this city, will preach his closing sermon at 11 a. m. Sacramental services in the evening at 7:30 o'clock. The members are urged to attend, and the public is invited.

Personal.

Mrs. Milton C. Russell has gone to Wilmington, Ohio, to visit her sister.

Miss Susie Andrews returned to her home at Wilmingon, Ohio, Thursday.

W. B. Poyer returned last night from several days' attendance at the Cincinnati Exposition.

Miss Ella and Bettie Martin came down yesterday from their home in Lewisburg on a visit to friends.

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Tash will leave for their home in Chicago Monday, accompanied by Miss Anna M. Stockton.

Miss Sallie Holton and Miss Mollie Pickett were guests of the Perrie family last evening and left on noon train to-day for a short visit at Cynthiana.

Miss N. Lulu Mitchell, of South Third street, returned home to-day after a pleasant visit to Misses Annie and Hattie Owen, at Crab Orchard, Farm.

Miss Mamie Slack, of Fern Leaf, after an extended visit to the principal cities and points of interest on our Eastern coast, returned to "Social Hall" last evening.

WASHINGTON NEWS NOTES

REVENUE CUTTERS' OFFICERS EXPERIENCE OF THE EARTHQUAKE.

Atmospheric Disturbances on the Ocean Caused by the Convulsions of the Earth. The War Department Knows Nothing of the Matter.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.—Officers of the revenue cutter Ewing, which has arrived at Baltimore, relate the following remarkable experience in Lower Chesapeake Bay on Tuesday night, about the hour that the first earthquake shocks were felt on land: The Ewing left Fortress Monroe on Tuesday afternoon, and all went well till between 11 and 12 o'clock that night. At that time a strong gale came out from the north, catching the Ewing in the vicinity of Smith's Point. All on board were thrown about, and the appearance about everything—nothing looked natural. In the heavens the stars were shooting in all directions, and the breaking seas were charged with foam that a pronounced degree that no one on board recollects ever having seen. The first shock was so violent, and the balls of fire appeared on one bow, then on the other, which Pilot Madegan thought were vessels lights, and kept an anxious watch as he progressed. It was only when they became general that he realized that they were to atmospheric disturbances.

The howl is sweeping off whole droves of porkers in Adams county, Indiana; $30,000 loss in two weeks.

The Gulon steamer Alaska, abeam eighteen hours on Gedney's Island, steams away to Euclid, Ohio.

The stone cutters' strike in New York has been taken up by District Assembly No. 49, Knights of Labor, and there is now talk of calling out all the cloth cutters of that city.

There was a horrible ten minutes in the bed room of Hanes Anderson, St. Paul, last night, while he tried to kill his wife, child and himself, with a broad ax. All three will recover.

Obnoxious rules regarding apprentices have been posted up by the boat builders of New York, and the journeymen pumbers will quit work until the rules shall have been removed.

Cumberland Telephone company at Evansville, Ind., has the city council for cutting down its poles and closing up the exchange, because, as alleged, the company disobeyed the laws of the state and city. A bitter fight is in progress.

The New York Sun editorially suggests "Old Joe McDonald" for congress from the Indianapolis district in place of either Bailey or Bynum, the two prominent candidates before the approaching compromise convention at Indianapolis.

At the closing session of the German Evangelical Synod at Buffalo, Rev. J. Zimmerman, Burlington, Iowa, was re-elected president; Rev. J. Grunert, Wabash, Ind., vice president; Rev. C. Schubel, Wabash, re-elected; Rev. P. A. Goebel, St. Charles, Mo., treasurer.

At the Indiana Republican state convention, H. B. Robertson, of Allen county, was nominated for lieutenant governor; Charles L. Griffin of Lake, for secretary of state; and George Carr of Orange county, for auditor; and J. A. Lempke, of Vanderburgh, for treasurer.

A terrible boiler explosion took place about 7 o'clock at the farm of Rutgers Vandenberg, of North Greenbush, N. Y. Ardenburgh, an employee, was killed, and civil proceedings against the members of the city council, but owing to the lateness of the hour, warrants were not served, and will be early to-morrow morning. The suite of records of the company, including the telephone company's wires and poles on and around the streets and the exchange closed, owing to the fact that the telephone company disobeyed the laws of the state and this city.

The members of the council say they will face the issue and fight it to the bitter end. The section under which these prosecutions are instituted is No. 1393 of the revised statutes of Indiana, and comes under the heading of "Violent and wanton assault." It is as follows: "Whoever maliciously or unlawfully injures any telegraph pole or telephone pole, or the wire or any part of the apparatus thereof, upon conviction thereof, shall be fined not more than $500 nor less than $5, and imprisonment in the county jail more than six months nor less than thirty days."

Attended Prison Murder.

JOLIET, Ill., Sept. 4.—The prison wire shop has been the scene of another attempted murder. Mike Mooney, recently returned to the prison from Muckawagan, after having had difficulty with Foreman Brougher, had a difficulty with Foreman Mooney. Mooney turned upon the foreman with red hot steaming poker six feet long, and made a desperate lung for his life. The foreman, however, got his hands at Mooney's throat and nearly choked him to death. Mooney was finally placed in the solitary. He swore that he would kill Brougher at the first opportunity.

DETERMINED SUICIDE.

After Several Attempts a Woman Throws Herself in Front of the Train.

CHICAGO, Sept. 4.—A most determined case of suicide is reported from Teaneck, a station on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway, where a woman was hanging about the depot all day, and there was a train at the 3:10 p. m. train, but was pulled off the track uninjured. She still remained in the neighborhood, and at 6 o'clock made another unsuccessful effort to be killed by the train.

At 5:30 o'clock, in the morning a freight train passed that point. It had run over and frightfully mangled the woman before her presence was suspected. She had hidden beneath a car, and when the train was pulled out as the train was near. In the pocket were found a prayer book and a medicine bottle. The former had the name Anna C. Cuddy, 5630 South Halsted street, written in it, with a free line beneath, "Pray for me."

"The Eulogized Soldier."

NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—The medal of the military service issued by the United States for the essay on "The Eulogized Soldier," has just been awarded to Lieut. Col. A. W. Woodhull, of the medical department of the army. There were eleven competitors for the prize. The essay of Col. R. J. Dodge, of the 10th Cavalry, infantry, received the second mention in second order of merit.

The Ladies After Prizes.

BUXTON, O., Sept. 4.—The contest in the band and fire tournament this morning resulted. First prize, Wooster hook and ladder, 30 seconds; second, Dunskirk hook and ladder, 30 seconds; third, Adair hook and ladder, 30 seconds; fourth, Tiffin hook and ladder, 37 seconds.
